

26 February 1991

Mr Andrew Faulds, MP
House of Commons

Dear Mr Faulds,

I listened with great interest and admiration to your principled views and the stand you expressed recently in Parliament on issues concerning the Gulf crisis. These strongly underline your deep understanding of the complex situation and the real aims of the powers that lie behind their publically stated agenda. Moreover, your willingness to stand up boldly in defence of the truth, as you perceive it, cannot but be a source of much encouragement and hope to many.

It is quite a while since we last met. I hope we shall be able to get together in the near future.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

Salem Azzam

Salem Azzam
Secretary General